

Season's Greetings

Have a great holiday season, from all of us at the Capital Area Metropolitan Planning Organization. Keep safety in mind with any travel you are planning.

U.S. Secretary of Transportation Ray LaHood and the Federal Aviation Administration remind parents to fly safely with your children; choose the right seat:

If traveling safely with your children seems like a challenge, our FAA has prepared a terrific website to help you and your precious cargo get where you're going. On the site, you can find a brochure called "Childproof Your Flight: play it safe when flying with your child." I encourage you to print it and take it with you during your travels.

The CAMPO office will be closed for the holiday Thursday and Friday, December 23rd and 24th.

Our best to you and yours,
